

Arrival in Málaga by plane or train. Location of Malaga airport and train station.

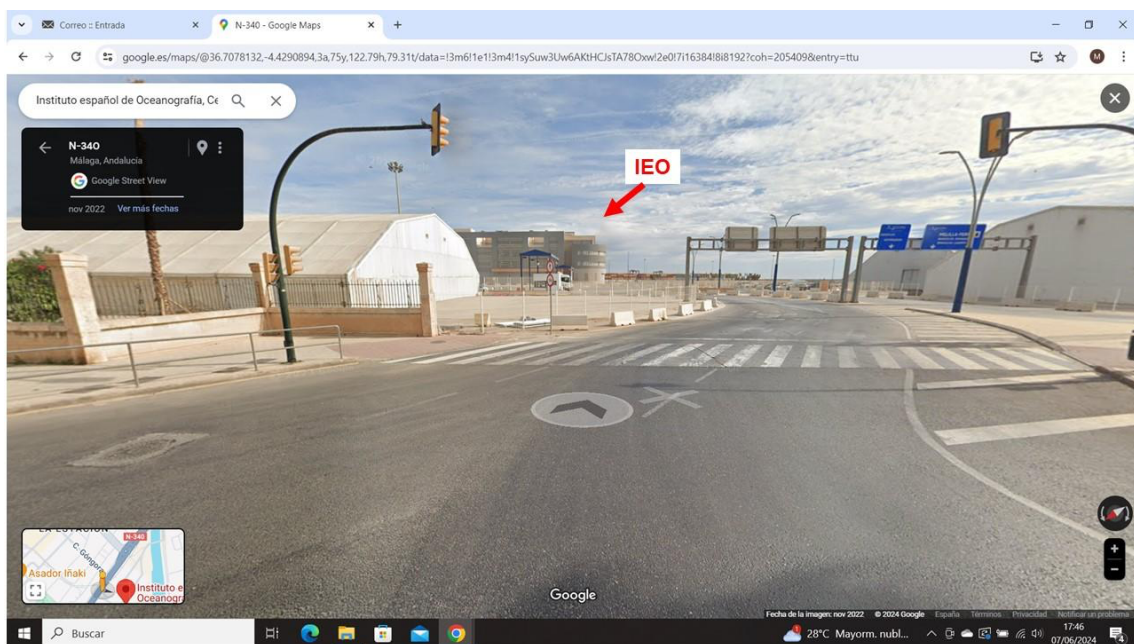

You can reach the Aeropuerto de Málaga-Costa del Sol (AGP) by plane. It is located 7 km from the Málaga María Zambrano train station. This is the closest train station to IEO. If you arrive in Malaga on a long-distance train, you will have to get off here (as you will see in the following lines, there is another station if you take the local train from the airport).

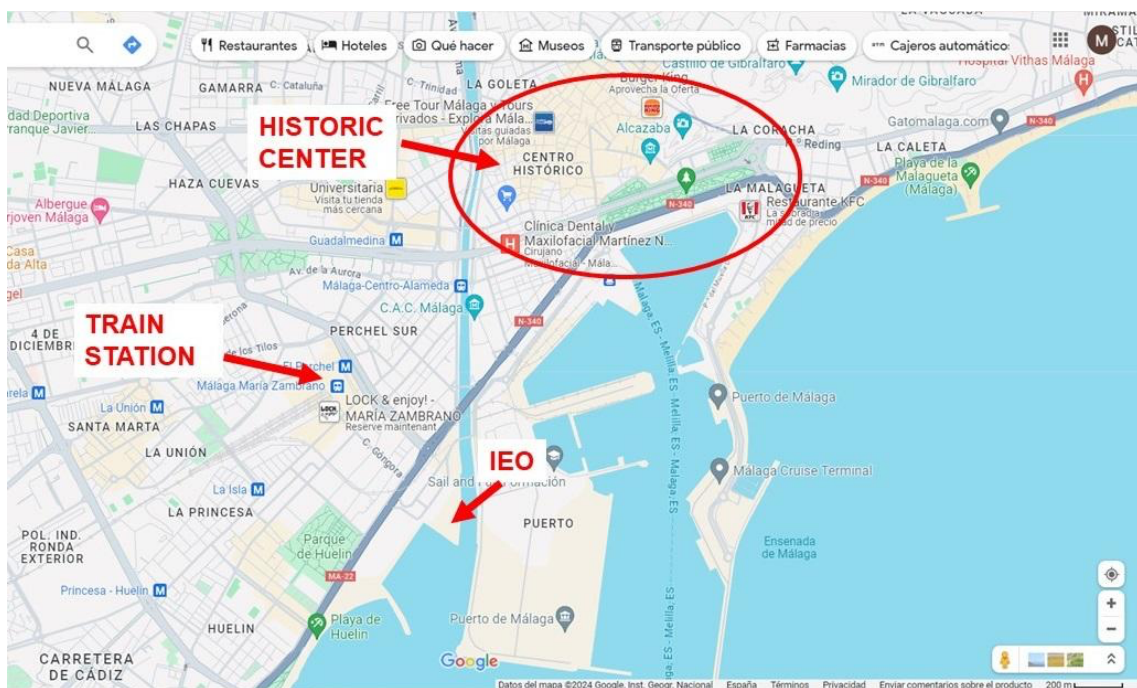

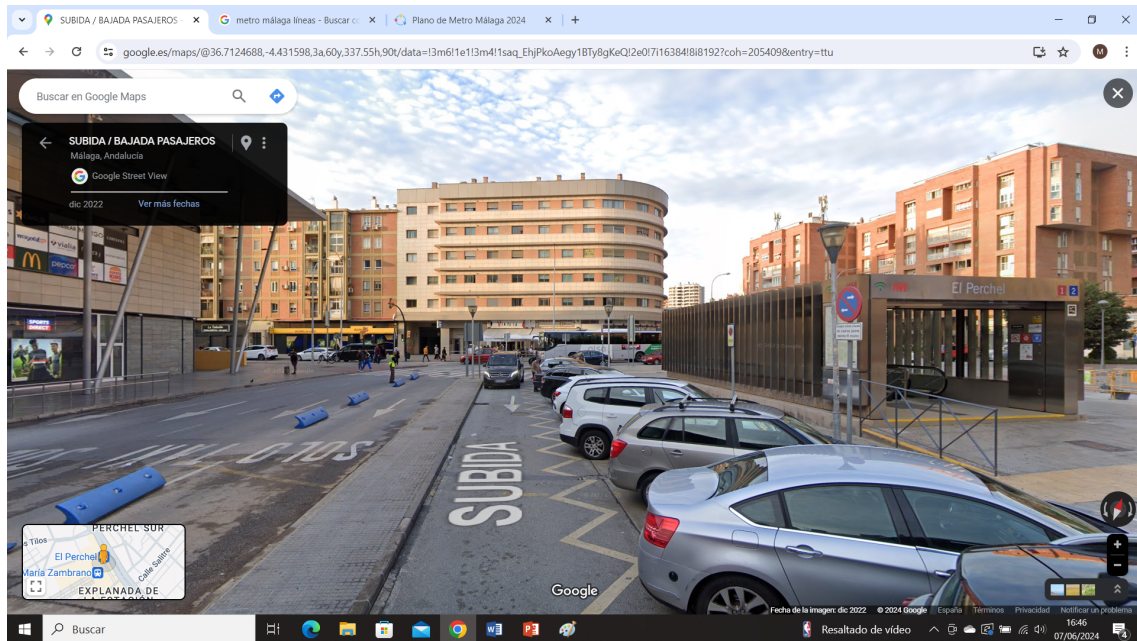

The station is called “Málaga-María Zambrano” and is a 10-minute walk from the Instituto Español de Oceanografía (IEO) - Málaga Oceanographic Centre, where the MonGOOS meeting will take place.

To access the IEO, you must enter the port of Málaga. This is the entrance and location of the building:

Málaga María Zambrano train station is a 15 walk from the city center. You can reach the city center from the station or from the IEO by metro, line 1, direction “Atarazanas”. If you get off at “Atarazanas” station, you will be in the city center. The metro station is located near the train station and is called “El Perchel”:

The price of the subway ticket is 1.35 euros.

How to arrive at Málaga from the airport.

By cab: It costs between 25 and 30 euros to get to the city center.

By train: There is a train station at Málaga airport. Take this train in the direction of Málaga-Centro Alameda. The price is 1.80 euros.

You can get off at two different stops, depending on where your hotel is located:

Estación Málaga-María Zambrano (The train station) or Málaga-Centro Alameda (in the city center).

The train runs every 20 minutes.

By bus: The bus costs 4 euros and has several stops at the train station and in the city center.

The bus runs every 20 minutes.
